Coroner Finds Two Dead Bodies in Road

He Followed Directions Telephone by Unidentified Man From an Unknown Place.

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill., Sept. 5 .- By following directions telephoned by an unidentified man from an unknown Coroner McCracken tonight found the dead bodies of a white man and negro lying in the middle of a road about 100 feet apart. Both men had been shot exactly in the same place, through the heart, and the bullet in each instance penetrated the body, coming out on the opposite side

From papers found in the pocket of the white man, it is presumed that his name was Robert Reynolds of Cedar Rapids, Ia. The negro was named George Green and was a striker, for-merely employed by the Nelson Morris Packing company.

The bodies were found near what is known as the Black bridge, on the outskirts of the city. When the Coroner, who was driving a wagon, reached the bridge, he was met by a man, who told him that "what he was looking for was about 200 feet further on." for was about 200 feet farther on."

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Sept. 5 - During the taking of testimony before the Coroner's jury today in the case of N. W Epps, a prominent and prosperous planter who was shot to death Saturday night near Bradfordville, Isum Edwards, Jr. the negro who did the shooting, acknowledged that a "before day club" had been organized in the county, and that a number of prominent white men had been picked out to suffer death. The negro Edwards implicated a number of other negroes, and tonight eight negroes are in the county jail at Live Oak. They were taken there today on a special train. It is reported that emblems of death have been found on the trees in several plantations of the best citizens of that section. It is supposed they were placed there by members of the club.

Wife Knew He Was a Drinker

Novel Contention Made by Chicagoan Who Frequently Got a Jag in Plea to Court.

CHICAGO, Sept. 5.-Erring huspands who come home at 2 a. m., search unsteadily for an elusive keyhole, and then crawl upstairs on their hands and knees lest their devotion to Bacchus and Gambrinus cost them a broken home, plucked up courage today when they learned of the noval contention made by Francis T. Brown, Jr., 1127 Hinman avenue, Evanston, in the di-vorce suit brought by his wife.

Wife Knew His Weakness. Because his wife knew of his weak less for intoxicants during his courtship and never attempted to reform him after marriage, Mr. Bryan set forth in the cross bill filed in the Circuit court in his behalf, that Mrs. Bryan's neglect to act as his mentor in things spirit-uous should bar her from obtaining a divorce

A cold undemonstrative nature is that of Mrs. Bryan, according to her hus-band. While he frankly admits that the charges of intoxication are true, Bryan says that his wife had no feeling of responsibility for him, and refused to follow the suggestions of his family in dealing with his failings. Bryan says that although now temperate, he used intoxicants to excess for years, and appeared before his fiancee under their influence during their courtship.

Denies Wife's Story. He denies his wife's assertion that the habit took hold of him after marriage. He asserts that she so far for-got her duty to him as to use intoxicat-ing liquor herself in his presence, well knowing the probable effect upon him. Bryan says that his reform began when he parted from his wife four ears ago in St. Louis, where he was ngaged in the insurance business. He sserts that she has refused to return to him as promised. Last April Bryan filed a suit against his wife on the charge of desertion. Mr. Bryan's cross bill charged habitual drunkenness.

CZAR'S FORCES QUIT MUKDEN

Means Abandonment of South Manchuria.

Preparations for the Evacuation Ara Now Proceeding.

Army of Brown Men Is Now Within Thirty Miles of the City.

MUKDEN, Sept. 5.-Preparations for he evacuation of Mukden are proceeding. The Japanese advance is within thirty miles.

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 6, 3:20 a. m. -It is impossible at this hour to obtain any statement from the authorities regarding the reported preparations for the abandonment of Mukden. This is the first intimation that such a course is contemplated. If it turns out to be true, it means the abandonment of the whole of southern Manchuria and the winding up of the present campaign. In fact, should Mukden be evacuated, there would be no point for wintering the army of a quarter of a million, with its many wounded, short of Harbin. Oyama Will Control Railway.

On the other hand, the evacuation of Mukden would give Fleid Marshal Oyama commodious winter quarters and the practical control of two lines of railway. The Kinchou-Sinmintin line, tapping rich Chinese territory, stops little short of Mukden, with which it is connected by a good wagon road. The report of the prospective evacua-tion of Mukden, if well founded, would indicate that the crippling effect of the Liao Yang fighting on Kuropatkin's army is more serious than has as yet been intimated.

Position of Russian Army.

A summary of the war situation to date shows that the whole Russian army, or at least the main portion of it, is already above Yen Tai station and is pushing on toward Mukden. Field Marshal Oyama's entire army has crossed the Taitse river and part of it gs hanging onto Kuropatkin's flank. A strong flanking column on the east is pushing rapidly north, in an effort to head off the Russians.

Harassing Kuropatkin.

Against this column Gen. Kuropatkin has sent out a strong cavalry di-vision to the northeast, which, it is believed, is already in position to check the Japanese flankers, while to the westward Kuropatkin is moving a division toward Singmintin, thirty miles west of Mukden, to meet any interfer-ence that may be attempted from the direction of Yinkow or Newchwang. Oyama's advance is reported to be engaging the Russian rear, but it is not expected to develop anything more serious than a series of rear-guard actions, tending to harass Kuropatkin's

Heading Off Russians.

The Japanese have thrown a strong flanking column across the Taitse river at Benitzu, about thirty miles north-east of Liao Yang. This column is hur-rying to the northeast and endeavoring to get in between the Russian army and Mukden. It is against this move-ment that Kurepatkin has dispatched Lieut.-Gen. Rennenkampf with a strong Cossack division, which, it is be-lieved, already is blocking the eastern

Kuropatkin has three roads over which he is marching toward Mukden besides the double-tracked railroad. The latter is chiefly occupied in the transportation of guns and of equipment, of which there are great quan-titles. The soldiers are marching in light order and most of the wounded have been already dispatched north by

Rear Guard Fight.

Gen. Kuropatkin, in a telegram to the General Staff, filed at 1 p. m. September 5, north of Yen Tal, says the Japanese on Sunday engaged his rear guard south of Yen Tai, the fight conguard south of ren rai, the fight con-tinuing until Monday. The telegram details the precautions taken to check-mate the Japanese flankers. Kuropatkin estimates his losses up to and including September 4 at 18,000.

This is considered to be a very conservative figure. The loss to the Japanese probably will be double this number, owing to their position as attack-

Kuropatkin says nothing regarding the loss of guns, but it is probable that some of the heavier emplaced guns at Liao Yang had to be abandoned. It is generally known that Gen. Kuropatkin succeeded, by means of a desperate rear-guard action and strong and well-handled flank movements, in withdrawing the great bulk of the Russian army, and that he cut bridges to hamper the Japanese pursuit.
